A Graft is a Gift
Are you ready to safely select your donors?
Cadaveric sources are the main source of organs and tissues.

Retrieval of organs, tissues and cells from deceased donors introduces the risk of transmitted infections for the transplantation recipients.

Changes to blood composition following death are known to affect serological tests. International Regulations require laboratories to only use validated assays for donors’ selection.

Safely select you donors by using validated, high quality DiaSorin assays.

*References
2. British Transplant Society. Guidelines for Hepatitis B & Solid Organ transplantation 2018

Product availability subject to required regulatory approval